Glass is now often used instead of gold as a material for filling decayed teeth. It is far less conspicuous than the yellow metal. Of course it is not ordinary glass, but is prepared by some new patented process which renders it soft and malleable. Glass too, will soon be extensively used for church bells. It can be toughened so that there is no risk of it cracking, and the tone is said to be beyond anything yet invented—perfect, soft and sonorous.

To keep skippers out of meat, first dip the meat in hot, boiling water and let it stay long enough to count five; take it out and rub it well with a mixture of black ground pepper and sifted corn meal. One cup of black pepper to two cups of meal, rub well while wet and hang up. It ought to be done the first week of March.

KENTUCKY NEWSLETS

Gleaned from all parts of the Commonwealth

Short, Readable Items of Interest to All.

The mayor of Nicholasville denies the report that there is small pox in that town.

A Scott county man took a mule with five feet to Georgetown and sold it for $1.10.

There is considerable small pox at Louisville. The City Council has ordered compulsory vaccination.

Alex Miller, a blacksmith of High Grove, Nelson county, was shot and killed by an unknown negro.

Ned Walker, an old colored man, aged about seventy, was burned to death in Richmond one day last week.

Fifty-seven of the large distilleries of Kentucky have formed a combine with a capital reported to be $32,000,000.

Rev. J. H. Bell, a sanctified Methodist preacher of Jamestown, has been arrested on the charge of bastardy.

An epidemic of spinal meningitis is feared at Morganfield, two young men having recently died with this disease in one day.

The court of appeals decided the prison chair contract controversy in favor of the state. About $50,000 was involved.

Wm. Miller, a negro boy sixteen years old, was hung last Friday at Lagrange for committing an assault on Mrs. Gertrude Leet, a white woman.

James Smith, the negro who killed William Gilbert, also colored, at Junction City, over twenty-five cents, was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Col. D. G. Colson, of the Fourth Kentucky regiment, has been officially informed by the war department that his regiment will be mustered out of service soon.

Clay Dresden, of Scott county, shot himself because Miss Mary Briten refused to marry him. The deed was committed in the presence of the young lady in her parlor. She is nursing him back to recovery and will marry him.

Owing to the increased number of cases of small pox in Louisville, the Warden of the Frankfort penitentiary has notified the Sheriff of Jefferson county that he will receive no prisoners from that place.

Greenfield will have a new plaining, telephone, electric lights and many other improvements with the coming spring.

A Cincinnati Southern fast train struck John Brown, a college student, at Danville and killed him instantly. He was a very popular young man from Owen county.

Wm. Burgess, keeper of the pest house at Paducah, became tired of living and hit himself on the head with a brick, badly wounding himself. He crawled three miles in the snow and froze stiff.

The Court of Appeals during January broke all previous records by disposing of one hundred and twenty-one cases. The largest number ever decided in a single month heretofore was one hundred.

A Cleveland judge has handed down a decision to the effect that 11 o'clock is late enough for any man to sit up sparkling his best girl. He is right. If a man cannot talk himself dry and his girl crazy in three hours, he has no business to have a talking equipment or a girl either.

Attacked by Crows.
The following report comes from Henderson: "George Aldrich, a farmer living near Poole, Webster county, is now in a serious condition, the result of an attack made on him by a flock of crows. The mischievous birds were doing great damage to the growing wheat in that section. With his gun and in company with a 12 year old son, Aldrich went out to drive the voracious birds from his farm. He killed a lot of them, but instead of flying away, myriads of them flew down upon him and the boy, pecking and scratching them in the face and all over the body. The boy escaped, but his father resisted the attack until he was rescued physically exhausted and bleeding all over. His eyes are put out it is believed, and his entire body lacerated. Hundreds of the birds were killed before they were put to flight."

Divorces While You Wait.
[Minneapolis Tribune.]

Nebraska holds first place in point of speed in the granting of divorces, a decree having been granted in Douglas county in exactly thirty-five minutes from the time the proceedings were started. The caption was Susie C. Ramage vs. William Ramage. The plaintiff alleged in her petition cruelty and non-support. It was just 2:15 p. m. when the petition was filed with Judge Fawcett in the Court of Equity, at Omaha, and five minutes later an answer was filed by defendant's attorney. At 2:40 p. m. the case was on trial, and ten minutes later the decree was signed. Ramage is a prosperous contractor living in Chicago, and was anxious for a quick divorce, owing to his desire to immediately venture again into matrimony. When this fact was mentioned to the plaintiff in the case by Attorney Backus, she remarked that "she hasn't much the start of me, for I'm engaged."

The Successful Farmer.

Who is the successful farmer? It is easy enough for the casual observer to decide. The farmer who never comes to town without bringing something to sell, and who pays cash for his family supplies is the progressive farmer. The unsuccessful farmer is the one who goes to town often and rarely, if ever, carries anything with him to sell. He is the fellow that spends a good deal of his time sitting on goods boxes whittling, "cussin" corporations, spouting politics and bemoaning the hard times. He is, also, the fellow who mortgages his team, and cow and calf and his future crop for supplies to run on the coming year. He buys cabbage, beans onions and other vegetables that his successful neighbor farmer brings to town and sells.

A Coon Dog Case.

A novel case was tried in the Quarterly Court Wednesday, says the Stanford Interior Journal. Ed Adams, of Jessamine county, sought to recover a dog from Elijah Cheatum, which the latter detained on his premises for thirty days. A number of witnesses were introduced, a large crowd was in attendance. Letcher Owsley was special Judge and six lawyers were employed in the case and two Baptist preachers were on the jury. The trial consumed the entire day. The lawyers for the plaintiff claimed that he was a good coon dog, and that the hides of the coons that he would have caught if he hadn't been detained would have been worth $10. They claimed this amount or the dog. After a few moments deliberation the jury gave the dog to the plaintiff.

The War Department on Wednesday issued an order to muster out about 15,000 volunteer troops. No Kentucky regiments are included in the order.

There has been much talk in Kentucky about the book trust and the means of meeting this evil, and this question will undoubtedly play a more or less prominent part in the approaching State campaign. There is one phase of this subject which The Dispatch would submit to the consideration of the people of the State and especially the Democratic leaders. Making a change from one publishing concern operated for individual profit to another of the same character, will be of but little advantage to anybody save the successful lobbyist.

The Dispatch believes that there is great opportunity for the Democratic party to root out this evil absolutely, and at the same time cut off the source of other jobs that have flourished for many years. Printing material is cheap;
the State already expends thousands of dollars annually for public printing and the profits which a few individuals have received out of the State printing within the last twenty years would have equipped a great printing house with all the modern facilities. Why not have the State establish its own printing house to do such work as it now lets to private contract and in addition to this, publish its own school books? The profits which the printing contractors now get would go a long way toward furnishing free books to all the children in the public schools of the State.

Such a step would wipe out the trust evil for all time so far as school books are concerned.
In addition to this, it would stimulate home industry to the extent of keeping in Kentucky thousands of dollars that go annually to Eastern publishing houses and by giving employment to hundreds and perhaps thousands of skilled mechanics
at home instead of in Boston,
New York and Philadelphia. We do not believe that the Democratic party would make a mistake to declare in its platform for such a solution of the school book question.—Louisville Dispatch.

Richmond Court.

With the worst snow storm of the winter prevailing and the streets and side-walks as sloppy as a pig pen, yesterday was a most disagreeable court day.
Considering the weather, however, there was a pretty fair sized crowd in town and business was brisk. Between 800
1,000 cattle were on the market.
There was a better demand than last court day and prices were stiffer, ranging from 3 to 5 ets.
One sale of extra good feeders at 5 1/2 ets. is reported. There were about 50 mules on the market. Carithers & Beard, of Lexington, buying a car-load at prices ranging from $60 to $80.
But few horses were offered.—

went out on a little lark. He didn't get home till 3 o'clock in the house before a nurse rushed up and, uncovering a bunch of soft goods, showed him triplets.

The Irishman looked up at the clock, which said 3, then at the three of a kind in the nurse's arms, and said: "O! I'm not superstitious, but thank heavens that O! didn't come home at twelve!"

Saturday was pension day.

C. M. Wood, of Kiddville, was here Saturday.

Considerable snow has fallen this week and the weather is very cold.

Sleigh riding has been fine this week, where the mud was not too deep.

James Howard severely cut one of his legs one day last week while chopping wood.

Eld. J. T. Turpin, of King's Station, preached at the Baptist church Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Emily Jane Crow, who moved to Clark county last spring, has moved back to her place near here.

J. L. King gave the young people a dance Monday night. It is reported by those present as an enjoyable affair.

Miss Pracie McIntosh, of Knowlton, and Miss Annie Holman, of Hardwick's Creek, are visiting Miss Besse Barnett.

The Louisville Dispatch is by far the best Daily or Weekly paper published in Kentucky. The Weekly Dispatch and TIMES both one year 75 cents.

Hasty words and actions are seldom right ones. Always think twice, at the same time remembering that a soft answer turneth away wrath.

J. W. Henry, the photographer, is now prepared to make your pictures in his new studio. He will shortly open a new stock of handsome frames. Save your order for him.

A. J. Curtis has rented and moved to the Mansell Burgher place. Mr. Gilly, who lived there last year, has moved on Mr. McKinney's place, near the mouth of Hardwick's Creek.

Everybody should have some good weekly besides their local paper to read. The Louisville Dispatch will supply this want. THE TIMES and Dispatch both one year for 75 cents.

Persons that happened to be without wood this week—and there was not a few—found that they could find good exercise chopping it, for it was most too cool to do without fire.

Eld. J. T. Turpin preached at Powell's Valley from Sunday night up till Tuesday night when he received a letter from his family stating that one of his children was down with fever.

A movement is on foot to organize a stock company and put up a telephone from this place to Clay City. This line would be very convenient for our people and with a trifling outlay the line can be secured.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in Chicago.

Hilgen Bros., the popular South Side druggists, corner 69th-st. and Wentworth-av. say: "We sell a great deal of Chamberlain's Cough remedy, and find that it gives the most satisfactory results, especially among the children for severe colds and croup." For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

J. H. Dawson, of the firm J. W. Dawson & Bro., informs us that he has recently bought of one of his close neighbors, and one he took to be anything besides dishonest, a rooster four times, paying for him each time the top of the market price—2½ cents per pound—and as the chick weighed on an average 6½ pounds, he has paid for him altogether 65 cents. He has for the last few times that he has sold him taken up the entire amount in candy, and as everybody in the country knows who likes candy so well, they will readily guess the person who sold Mr. Dawson the rooster.

A Harrodsburg merchant gave me his remedy for the prevalent diseases of grippe the other day, says the Harrodsburg Democrat. He said he had been studying the disease since its first appearance here several years ago, and that he had reached the conclusion that a good wholesome sneeze is worth a whole drug store of medicine as a preventative of the much dreaded disease. When you begin to feel bad, if you can not sneeze otherwise, snuff the odor of a pod of red pepper, and the desired effect will be produced. He reasons that la grippe is caused by microbes and sneezing removes them from the nostrils. The above remedy will also prevent a cold.

Write on a piece of paper the number representing your age, multiply by two, add 3,792, add four, divide by two, then subtract the number representing your age and before your eyes will be something you will never see again.—EX.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Willmott McKinney, of Levee, came out Thursday to witness the marriage of Mr. McKinney's sister, Miss Mima, to Mr. Niblick. They failed to get there in time, however, being detained at the river quite awhile before they could be ferried over.

for La Grippe.

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash-av., corner Jackson-st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

Black Diamond a Go.

This is good news, if true Col. Albert S. Boone, the promoter of the famous Black Diamond railroad, which is to run from Columbus, Ohio, to Port Royal, S. C., intersecting the R. N. I. & B. at Irvine, announces that the road will certainly be constructed and that contracts calling for an expenditure of $50,000,000 have already been signed. An English syndicate, with money to burn, is said to be behind the enterprise. —Richmond Register.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Waitt of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

MARRIED.

Bluford Fox, formerly of this place but now of Winchester, and Miss Pearl Rees, of the same place, were married at the bride's home, Wednesday, Feb. 8, 1899.

NIBLICK-MCKINNEY—At the residence of the bride's father, D. McKinney, near this village, Thursday, February 9th., Mr. Sanford Niblick and Miss Mima

McKinney were married in the presence of a number of relatives and friends, Rev. B. S. Burgher officiating. Mr. Niblick is a promising young business man of Clay City, being the senior member of the firm Niblick Bros. & Co., while his bride is a model young lady. The TIMES joins their numerous friends in extending congratulations.

Married in Clark last week, Mr. R. M. Guy and Miss Mary Belle Niblick and Mr. Marshall Blackwell and Miss Ella Swope. Both of these young ladies were acquainted in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Erbark, of Right Angle, were over to the Niblick-McKinney wedding Thursday.

30 Degrees Below Zero.

The coldest weather of this winter, and perhaps the coldest ever in Kentucky, has been during this week. Thursday morning at eight o'clock the thermometer stood at 12 degrees below zero and at 12 o'clock, noon it was 6 below zero. It was some warmer in the afternoon, however, but was below zero the entire day. By 9 o'clock that night it was 16 below zero and yesterday morning it capped the climax at half past seven when it stood at 30 degrees below zero. Up to the hour of going to press it is still very cold.

DANGERS OF THE GRIPPE.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. It reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro.

Every thing about the horse goes into the market. From the hoofs oil is extracted, and the horny substance is sold to comb manufacturers. Knife handles are made from the leg bones. The ribs and heads are burned into bone black, after the glue is extracted. There are many uses for the hair.—Farmers' Home Journal.

The people in the river bottoms in the western part of the State are finding no trouble in getting all the rabbits they want to eat during the recent tides.

The Breckinridge News presents this list of prices paid back in the 60's, for the consideration of those who long for the good old times:

Grocery bills of 1868 are a variation from those of 1899. In this city in 1868, bacon retailed at 20 cents a pound; brown sugar 18 cents; white sugar 20 cents; tea $1.75 to $2; flour, per ewt., $7 to $8.50; salt, per bbl., $5; syrup, per gallon, $1.60; coal oil, per gallon, 70 cents; coal, per bushel, 15 to 20 cents. The grocer of '99 can get on with a smaller cash drawer than the grocer of '68, unless he has a much larger number of customers.

Last Roasting Place.

A local paper published a long obituary of a man who had died in the community, closing with the statement that "a long procession of people followed the remains to their last roasting place." The family read the notice and discovered the supposed error and asked the editor to make a correction in the word "roasting," but he said he could not do it until the seven years back subscription of the deceased owed had been paid.

A Kansas Farm vs. Print Shop.

A Tennessee editor running the Claibord Progress refuses to make a trade after this fashion:

A man out in Kansas wants to swap me eighty acres of his blizzard-blasted land for our print shop even up. It would be a durn good deal for the Kansas man but a tough bargain for your Uncle Ben. Honor bright gentlemen, I wouldn't exchange the Progress plant and its home on Paradise alley, for a whole section in Kansas. No where on earth does the sun shine brighter, the grass grow greener, chrystral brooks ripple in sweeter cadence or the gentle mountain breezes waft a more delious aroma to the nostrils; Claibord county is a good country to live and die in.

Sam Jones said: "The newspapers may decry Hobson and speak evil of him, but he has the profound sympathy of my heart. Why, to kiss everything that comes along, from the old maid with moss on her lip to the gay widow; to kiss the old sister whose nose and chin are meeting; to kiss the good, bad and indifferent! Gentlemen, I like kissing, but I want to pick the time, place and case. Poor Hobson! He needs the prayers of the prayers of the church and the sympathy of his comrades."

The following marriage ceremony used by Squire Tunk Blossom, of Bill Williams district, shows an up-to-dateness that is astonishing for such a conservative community, as Bill Williams district: "Young lady will you promise to take this helpless young gosling you hold by the hand and see that he wants for nothing? Will you guarantee to stand between him and the poor house, fan him when sick, provide him with a new suit twice a year; and always see that his supply of stove wood is dry and convenient until the divorce courts shall intervene? If you feel like undertaking a little matter like that, deposit $20 with me as a guarantee that he will be well cared for and take the gosling and light out."—Atlanta Journal.

Practical Hints on Advertising.
The science of advertising is in its infancy, says an exchange. It is growing in importance and efficiency every day. It used to be a speculative venture—now it is a scientific certainty.

No man has ever reached the acme of business success. Heights that we do not dream of will be attained by twentieth century merchants. I am one of those who believe that there is no limit to the possibilities of human achievements.

No man has ever yet made a success of business without advertising of some sort. May be he don't call it advertising, but it was advertising just the same. Advertising primarily consists in letting people know you are in existence and what excuse you have for it.

It is reported that a fight will be made to remove the remains of Daniel Boone and wife from the cemetery at Frankfort to their former resting place in Missouri. The idea is strongly supported by some of the most influential citizens of Missouri, who entertain the idea that their sacred dust should repose in some appropriate spot in the State in which he died. However, the Missourians will find determined opposition to such a scheme here in Kentucky.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

About 5,000 pension claims have been filed as a result of the Spanish war, and the number is growing larger every day.
